AKIM FUNK BUDDHA www.funkbuddha.net

317 Lefferts Avenue, 6H, Brooklyn, NY 11225 akimfunkbuddha@gmail.com 415-370-0791

Akim Funk Buddha creates borderless performance art, fusing sounds and movements from different genres, and drawing on a full spectrum of cultural traditions and artistic disciplines. His field of operation ranges from experimental choreography, vocal percussion and tap, to Mongolian throat-singing, Balinese Baris dance, and — crucially — the Japanese Art of Tea. He is the creator of original works performed nationally and internationally, including at Lincoln Center, the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the Blue Note, LaMaMa E.T.C., Joe's Pub, PS122, Rubin Museum, Whitney Museum, etc.; the Kennedy Center premiered a well-received work-in-progress experiment, URBAN TEA CEREMONY, and the Brooklyn Botanic Garden invited him to create several related works for their annual Sakura Matsuri Festival as well. His performances have been commended several times in The New Yorker's 'Goings on About Town' which memorably praised AKIM FUNK BUDDHA AND FRIENDS for "...singing, dancing, and rhyming their way across the cultural landscape." The Village Voice "loved every second of BACK TO CREATION, by Akim Funk Buddha, a protean talent." NYC Dances wrote "The voice of Akim Funk Buddha is an instrument that has to be experienced to be believed; from him comes a haunting symphony of sound."

A powerful and virtuosic dancer and vocalist, he has worked with Bill T. Jones and Bobby McFerrin, and performed with artists including Philip Glass, Aretha Franklin, and Vernon Reid. An established NYC arts educator, Akim has taught many young performers: at the Frederick Douglass Academy, Jamaica Center for the Arts and Learning, Stevenson School, and Rikers Island correctional facility; at the Gateway School for kids with learning differences, he created a curriculum emphasizing community building, cultural inclusivity, dignity and self-respect. Akim's openness and improvisational genius flowers in performance, often incorporating workshop-like interactions that inspire new forms of cultural dialogue with the audience. He still maintains a reputation for pushing the envelope of the Hip Hop form: his group ZIMBABWE LEGIT was honored at the Whitney Museum in 2007 for its "unique fusion of African aesthetic and urban American dialect that returns hip hop to its pre-commercial roots," and his final turn in the acclaimed documentary FREESTYLE: THE ART OF RHYME is a touchstone for many younger artists. Among Akim's awards are first prize at PS122's BEST DANCER COMPETITION, and the Fringe Festival BEST CHOREOGRAPHY award (for Average Asian American). He is also a 3-time winner of the HOTTEST POETS POETRY SLAM.
